To a World reporter Mr. Greeley remarked that he saw no reason for any de School well attended. November. The result in Pennsylvania and Onio was no real criterion, and should those States go the same way in November, the Liberals still had good cause to hope for success. His impression was that the Southern States, with probably one excep-tion, would give Liberal majorities. Their electoral vote, together with what would be added by New York and other Northern states were sufficient to insure victory. He was certain, from what he had since Tuesday's election, that the defeat in Pennsylva-nia had invigorated the Liberals throughout the campaign with greater energy. New York, Oct. 14 .- John Cochrane, Committee, issues an address to the Liberal Republicons of the State, reviewing the result of the October elections and claiming that twenty States, and nearty two hundred electoral votes can still be carried for Gree
